

Table. See § 14. The information in the record does not show entitlement to an award under the Program.

On June 15, 2011, the petitioner moved to dismiss her petition, acknowledging that insufficient evidence exists to demonstrate entitlement to compensation.

To receive compensation under the Program, petitioner must prove either 1) that Gerardo suffered a “Table Injury” – i.e., an injury falling within the Vaccine Injury Table – corresponding to one of his vaccinations, or 2) that Gerardo suffered an injury that was actually caused by a vaccine. See §§ 13(a)(1)(A) and 11(c)(1). Examination of the record does not disclose any evidence that Gerardo suffered a “Table Injury.” Further, the record does not contain a medical expert’s opinion or any other persuasive evidence indicating that Gerardo’s alleged injury was vaccine-caused.

Under the Vaccine Act, a petitioner may not be awarded compensation based on the petitioner’s claims alone. Rather, the petition must be supported by either the medical records or by a medical opinion. § 13(a)(1). In this case, the record does not contain medical records or a medical opinion sufficient to demonstrate that the vaccinee was injured by a vaccine. For these reasons, in accordance with § 12(d)(3)(A), the petitioner’s motion to dismiss is granted.

The petitioner has also filed an unopposed motion for an award of attorney fees and costs in this case. Petitioner may receive reasonable attorney fees and costs pursuant to § 15(b) and (e)(1). Respondent has reviewed the motion and does not object. Accordingly, I hereby award the total of $6929.42³. This total represents $34.28 in petitioner’s personal costs, and $6895.14 in attorney fees and costs. The payment shall be:

- 1. a lump sum of $6895.14, in the form of a check payable jointly to petitioner, Roberta Cruz, and petitioner’s counsel, Thomas P. Gallagher/Gallagher and Gallagher Law Firm LLC, for attorney fees and costs; and
- 2. a lump sum of $34.28, in the form of a check payable to petitioner, Roberta Cruz, for out-of-pocket expenses personally incurred by petitioner.

The petition is dismissed for insufficient proof. Petitioner is awarded reasonable attorney fees and costs pursuant to § 15(b) and (e)(1), as I find that the petition was brought in good faith and upon a reasonable basis, and the amounts requested are reasonable and appropriate.

³ This amount is intended to cover all legal expenses. This award encompasses all charges by the attorney against a client, “advanced costs” as well as fees for legal services rendered. Furthermore, § 15(e)(3) prevents an attorney from charging or collecting fees (including costs) that would be in addition to the amount awarded herein. See generally Beck v. Sec’y, HHS, 924 F.2d 1029 (Fed. Cir. 1991).

In the absence of a timely-filed motion for review filed pursuant to Appendix B of the Rules of the U.S. Court of Federal Claims, the clerk of the court shall enter judgment in accordance herewith.⁴

IT IS SO ORDERED.
