

UNITED STATES COURT OF FEDERAL CLAIMS
(Updated April 27, 2022)

COVID-19 Precautions and Guidance for In-Person Courtroom Proceedings

Until further notice if the presiding judge in a case determines that an in-person proceeding is necessary, the following rules apply and shall be communicated to all participants:

- Each individual participating in the proceeding must bring to the court an N95, KN95, or KF95 mask and wear it inside the courthouse at all times.
- The combined number of participants for any proceeding is not recommended to exceed 12 without the approval of the judge or special master.
- For contact tracing purposes, chambers should provide the Clerk of Court with a list of all persons present at the proceeding and their e-mail address. If the proceeding is on the record, the judge or special master will conduct a roll call of all persons present on the record at the beginning of every proceeding.
- The counsel of record for each party shall confirm with chambers ahead of the proceeding that any colleagues, staff, and clients who plan to attend the proceeding are asymptomatic for COVID-19.
- Any individual who develops symptoms or tests positive for COVID-19 within 14 days of visiting the court must notify the court immediately.
- Individuals who are not fully vaccinated* should adhere to 6-foot social distancing protocols at all times.
- Bottled water may be brought into the courtroom but must be removed and disposed of properly in the trash bins in the courtroom lobby at the conclusion of the proceeding. Water will not be provided by the court.
- Please limit the path of travel to courtroom, elevators, and bathroom facilities.
- Wash hands and use the hand sanitizers.
- Paper sharing of documentation between judge and parties should be limited. Electronic mode of sharing is encouraged.
- Elevator capacity is restricted to four people per elevator car. Please advise everyone coming to the building to plan to arrive well ahead of time to account for the extra time needed to get to the courtroom.

* An individual is considered fully vaccinated once they are two weeks past their second dose of a two-dose vaccine or two weeks past their first dose of a one-dose vaccine.
